

PROFILE

From her studio at Cockpit Workshops in London, Aline designs and fabricates architectural glass panels to commission, for residential or public use. Translating her architectural glasswork into kilnformed tableware and lighting has proved to be successful and it is sold through galleries in London and in Dorset.

Her design background is apparent in her ability to adapt to new demands, the urge to pursue and develop new interests and her ability to transfer her design skills from fashion and knitwear to mosaics and finally to glass.
